Inducted: 2023

Club Affiliation: The Legends Golf Club

Duncan Mills started volunteering with Alberta Golf in 1991 at different provincial events and this led to his decision to leave his banking career behind in 1996 and become the Executive Director of the McLennan Ross Alberta Junior Tour. In this role Dunc has witnessed the growth of players from the very beginning of their competitive play to becoming champions, and more importantly has been instrumental in developing well rounded individuals for the workforce. Dunc's ability to stay calm and use the rules to teach junior players has helped create the positive atmosphere that the junior tour has become known for and is what kept numerous junior players enjoying the lifelong game of golf.

In addition to the endeavours with the junior tour, Dunc spent time on the Alberta Golf Executive committee throughout the 1990's, helping to shape golf in Alberta at the turn of the century. Dunc has also acted as the driving force for the Alberta Golfer Magazine for more than 25 years, helping to share everything going on annually throughout the province. To this day Dunc continues to assist in the creation of the magazine whether it's writing, editing, publishing, printing, and even delivery.

Dunc's volunteering does not stop with Alberta Golf events, as he regularly gives his time to assist with multiple professional tour events when they arrive in Alberta. He has helped with the ATB Classic and will surely continue to do so in the years to come.
